

Biker Terms & Poem

By Robert & Jeannie Shinn

O.K. so Kimmy has asked me to write some kind of explanation or definitions of biker terms that we hear now-a-day's, so let's give it a spin:

1. 1%'er: If you need to ask you don't need to know, get it??
2. R.U.B. if you're asking what a 1%'er is you are more than likely a rich urban biker and you don't need to know, get it??
3. Bro and Brother don't mean the same thing. A brother is a Club Member/Patch Holder and a "Bro" would mean that we shared a womb together, so I'm probably not your "Bro".
4. Ol' Lady: The woman you sleep with not your Mom, or Grandma.
5. Ol' man: The guy your sleeping with (if your not a man) not your Dad or Grandpa.
6. Bitch: The person (Ol' Lady, or Ol' Man) that is riding on the back of your bike.
7. Rag: Not something that you're Ol' Lady or Bitch is, but a magazine for your reading enjoyment.
8. Sled/Scooter/Her: Your bike, motorcycle, chopper. (Or just somebody who doesn't pay their bills.)
9. Titty Bar: A place that you and your Ol' Lady can have a good time!!
10. Tranny: Not something that you want to run into in a titty bar.
11. Leathers: A good thing to see in a titty bar.
12. Hog/Pig: Another good thing not to run into in a titty bar.

Enough already if it's not clear now it will never be. So good luck out there and feel free to use any and all of these term as often as possible, just don't tell anybody that I gave you permission.

Thanks Robert

Biker Poem

First you'll need a motorcycle to ride a hog, a scooter the wind won't be denied. There's shovelheads, panheads, knuckleheads too, choppers, bobbers, customs in blue. Some ride in a pack, they call them a club they're patchholders, brothers, never a rub. No brain buckets yet, so hop on your ride; you know you're free wheelin' it shifting suicide.

If you're riding solo, good luck with your search, cause Billett and Titty bars sure ain't church. If you're riding two up it's clear to see that see was built for my ol' lady and me.

Ride Safe Jeannie Shinn